

INSIDER

40 of the most underrated travel destinations around the world

Zoë Miller

Jun. 8, 2018, 2:49 PM

Valparaíso, Chile. Shutterstock

While big cities like Paris or Rome are probably at the top of your travel bucket list, there are plenty of off-the-radar destinations that deserve your attention.

From overlooked second cities — Bergen, Norway, and Valparaíso, Chile, to name a few — to beautiful islands such as Anguilla and Pangkor Island, Malaysia, INSIDER has you covered with unexpected spots that you'll want to visit.

Keep reading to learn about 40 of the most underrated travel destinations around the world.

Durban, South Africa

Vetchies Beach in Durban. lcswart/Shutterstock

The beachside paradise of Durban is only about an hour from Johannesburg, but far less crowded.

The off-the-beaten-path spot is a draw for surfers thanks to massive waves, and appeals to thrill-seekers thanks to being home to the world's largest swing.